2023-24 ACADIA PERFORMING ARTS SERIES

Music from Persia, West Africa, the British Isles, Europe and North America performed by Artists with something important to say and something wonderful to play!

CONSTANTINOPLE & ABLAYE CISSOKO

September 2, 2023 • Festival Theatre Presented by MICHELIN

A poetic encounter between strings and voices, from the epics of the Mandingo Kingdom to the music of the Persian court. Senegalese Griot Ablaye Cissoko meets Constantinople Ensemble's Kiya Tabassian and percussionist Patrick Graham. Soaring passionate voices, string virtuosity, masterful percussions. Brought to Atlantic Canada by Musique Royale.

MOULETTES

October 7, 2023 • Festival Theatre Presented by Sofis natural foods

England's MOULETTES have been favorites of European critiques and audiences for quite some time. For Indie, Folk and Classical lovers alike, their music is a delicious interplay of dramatic orchestration, string baths & kaleidoscopic lushness. "Orchestral folk at its finest, Divine harmonies" ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ - (Time Out). Echoes of Kate Bush, Arcade Fire, "Shostakovich,

Miles Davis, Pentangle and Pink Floyd (...), they are most remarkable for their blend of immaculate and thrilling harmony vocals and unexpected instrumentation." (The Guardian)

SYMPHONY NOVA SCOTIA

October 13, 2023 • Convocation Hall

Conducted by their world-renowned Music Director, Holly Mathieson, Symphony Nova Scotia's full orchestra and the harmonious sound of their brilliant string section will again fill our acoustically beautiful Convocation Hall! A program featuring Haydn's Cello Concerto in C Major, with acclaimed cellist Denise Djokic.

DANNY MICHEL & STEVE POLTZ (DOUBLE-BILL)

November 18, 2023 • Convocation Hall

When they collided at some iconic music festival, it was probably inevitable that these two unique and busy minds would connect and want to hit the road together. These two impossible-to-pigeonhole troubadours, each with multiple claims to fame, are famous for offering solo performances of the type that creates cult following. Separate or together, creating parallel worlds full of fresh ideas, belly laughs and tears, who knows where they'll take us?

THE BARRA MACNEILS: AN EAST COAST CHRISTMAS!

December 17, 2023 • Convocation Hall Presented by THE SIXTEEN TEAM Scotia Wealth Management

The Scottish Island of Barra is the ancestral home of Clan MacNeil and, rightfully, the Barra MacNeils are Canada's Celtic Ambassadors. For more than three decades, this Cape Breton-based family group has been thrilling audiences near and far with their sparkling vocal harmonies and instrumental prowess. Every year, their East Coast Christmas concert is the "must-see" event for the Season. In collaboration with Brookes Diamond Productions, The Barra MacNeils bring their Celtic Christmas Magic back to Convocation Hall for the first time since 2017!

TOM REGAN MEMORIAL CONCERT

January 27, 2024 • Festival Theatre

Produced in collaboration with the Acadia School of Music, the TRMC is our annual showcase of AUSOM's students, faculty, alumni and friends, demonstrating the diversity and depth of the musical talent at Acadia. Expect a rich and diverse evening of music featuring a blend of exciting emerging and established musicians and singers.

GUY DAVIS

March 2, 2024 • Convocation Hall (subject to change)

Blues Musician/Actor/Teacher/Activist, Guy Davis is the "real deal". Son of Ossie Davis and Ruby Dee, Harry Belafonte's godson, Guy has been digging deep into the roots of the Blues as a musician but also as an actor. From his own play, The Adventures of Fishy Waters, Davis went on to star Off-Broadway as the legendary Robert Johnson. Guy also starred in the seminal film, "Beat Street", the movie that introduced breakdancing, rap and urban street art to a wide audience. Along the way, he cut 15 acclaimed albums, nominated for two Grammy Awards and over two dozen Blues Awards.

DUO CONCERTANTE

March 14, 2024 • Denton Hall

With their seminal 3CD recording of Beethoven Sonatas, 12 more acclaimed albums and 25 years of performances around the world, violinist Nancy Dahn and pianist Timothy Steeves are truly at the forefront of Canadian chamber music! "Artistry, poetry and impeccable technique"—La scena musicale

THE FRETLESS

April 27, 2024 • Festival Theatre Presented by HERBIN JEWELLERS

A supergroup of four celebrated players/composers, Juno award-winning The Fretless expands the idea of what a string quartet can be. A distinctly rich, multi-layered and percussive sound that breaks the wall between classical concert halls and folk music festivals.
